

At Girls' State '61

The following letter was received from one of the Hancock County girls who attended Girls' State in Jackson. The letter was written to Mr. Guy Burkin, who is in charge of the girls who attended this year's Girls' State in Jackson.

Mr. Burkin,

First of all let me thank you for giving me the opportunity to attend the annual session of Mississippi Girls' State.

This past week has been one of the most enriching and interesting of my life. I sincerely hope that the American Legion Auxiliary will continue this wonderful activity.

I can think of no better way to introduce the problems and issues involved in government to the young people than by letting them take an active part in it now.

We heard many fine speakers who urged us to become better citizens on the vital issues of the day so that when we reach the age we may take an intelligent stand and a more active part in all phases of politics.

As a member of the mock House of Representatives I found that opinions on one subject could be presented in as many ways as the number of people present. In order to get a bill passed, one must employ tact, persuasion, and a fund of background knowledge.

We were privileged to be the first group of Girls' State ever to hold session in the newly remodeled Old Capitol.

On our last night we attended a reception at the beautiful Governor's Mansion where we were received by the wives of our governor and lieutenant governor, two gracious and charming ladies.

I don't believe I could name one single event I hold most thrilling because each thing has its own special place. I only wish that more girls could attend these sessions.

It has left me with a deeper love and appreciation for my country and its form of government. I intend to learn more about it and the way it works so that if need be I can defend it against its enemies or explain it to its friends.

Again let me thank you and all the ladies of the Auxiliary for an experience I shall never forget.

Very sincerely yours,
Linda Mazarakis

Infant Killed; Three Injured

A three-week-old infant was killed and three persons were injured in a head-on collision about 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

The accident occurred on the De-Lisle-Pineville Road, north of Pass Christian.

Cynthia Maria Ladner, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Ladner, Kiln, Miss., was dead on arrival at Gulfport Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Ladner, 34 year-old school teacher at Hancock North Central, received head injuries and lacerations.

His wife, Mrs. Ladner, 34, suffered possible head injuries, leg fracture and multiple lacerations of the face and skull.

Robert M. Waaga, 14, Rt. 1 Long Beach driver of the other car involved, sustained bruise and eye and leg injuries.

According to Harrison County investigating officers, both vehicles were negotiating a slight curve when the accident occurred.

Waaga was reported traveling east in a 1955 Pontiac and Ladner west in a 1952 Ford.

Survivors in addition to the infant's parents are two brothers, William Glenn Davis and Ricky Davis; two sisters, Delores and Diane Davis, all of the Ladner Community, and her grandfather, Hines Jones of Raleigh, Miss.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday at St. William's Catholic Church, Fenton, with Rev. Upson of Pinehill Seminary officiating. Interment was in Roten Bayou Cemetery.

Patrolmen Answer Charges

Fred Curet former Mississippi highway patrolman, recently suspended by Public Safety Commissioner T. B. Birdsong, when asked Tuesday if he would request further hearing in the case stated, "I do not intend to ask for further hearings as to what charges could possibly involve some of my friends and other patrolmen."

Mr. Curet continued, "The issuance of any license was not an undercover system on my part because I obtained licenses from Mr. Horace Whitfield as well as from drivers license examiners in the field."

"I never issued licenses as I had no facility for doing so."

"A regular driver's license examiner is at the local City Hall for only three and one-half hours on Thursday morning. This gives motorists very little time to make their license applications, and I did assist motorists in obtaining their licenses."

"This has been a common practice by many patrolmen and under similar circumstances I feel I would do the same thing again."

"Commissioner of Public Safety Birdsong is in position to know that the licenses in question were paid for as a license cannot be obtained without paying for it."

"Patrol headquarters in Jackson has possession of these cancelled checks. I made these cancelled checks, which date back over a period of several years, available to Boyd Golding in Jackson, about three weeks ago."

Mr. Curet added, "I kept a record of most licenses as to number and address of motorist and contrary to implications, I feel they are all people of very high caliber and fully qualified to pass examination for licenses."

Mr. Curet concluded, "Due to the fact that I am going to be a candidate for Hancock County Sheriff in 1963, it is my opinion that pressure is being put on me now."

When contacted, Mr. Kenny said, "I was suspended for helping people in the county obtain driver's licenses."

Pat. Curet and Pat. William Kenny, also of Bay St. Louis, and Horace Whitfield, office manager at state patrol headquarters in Jackson, were recently suspended by Public Safety Commissioner T. B. Birdsong.

According to Birdsong, the patrolmen allegedly were involved

Legion Plans July Fourth Celebration

The annual "Fourth of July" Fair scheduled for July 1 and 2 will be held this year at the Legion Beach in place of the City Beach as in former years, Frank Taconi, Commander of Clement R. Bontemps Post 139, American Legion, announced.

John D. Rutherford, Jr., who was named general chairman of the event, said, "Access to the Legion's Beach for the fair would be a greater convenience for the public as it affords nearby shelter and other conveniences lacking at previous fairs."

Mr. Rutherford added, "While a number of Legionnaires have volunteered to assist me, I will need considerably more help before, after and during the fair as many new attractions have been added to the big celebration."

One of the added attractions for children this year will be pony rides.

Games for adults will be held on the main floor of the Legion home on both days.

A spectacular fireworks display is planned for Sunday night.

All proceeds from the Fair will be used for the Legion's County-wide Christmas tree party for children, Commander Taconi added.

"We expect many out of town visitors and hope that people throughout the county will come out and enjoy the fair and help this very worthy cause," he concluded.

Many home made cakes will be needed for the cake booth and anyone who would like to donate one is asked to contact Mr. Rutherford at HO-7-4944.

FORESTRY NOTES

Forestry is big business affecting every Mississippian. The Mississippi Forestry Commission is currently proud of the successful program made in every phase of the forestry program in recent years.

The Commission is a group of individuals who serve without compensation with the exception of that achieved through the satisfaction of promoting the state's forest industry toward its very highest potential. They look forward to the day when the State will enjoy a $1 billion economic contribution from its vast timber lands. At present rate of progress that day may not be too far away. In 1958 the economic contribution from forestry was calculated to be approximately $50 million dollars and according to the Southern Blue Book of Progress, the contribution from timber lands last year reached an all time high of over $540 million.

The Forestry Commission is pleased with the contribution it has made in helping develop this resource because from the forests come jobs, a means of livelihood and an improved standard of living for all Mississippians. Over half of the state's industries depend upon the seventeen and one-half million acres of timberland for their raw material. Thirty-eight thousand Mississippians find employment in these industries with an estimated $7,000 more employed between the stump and the plant. Twenty-five cents out of every dollar passing through the hands of Mississippians, cash registers and going into bank deposits comes from the forests of Mississippi. In addition, the forests protect the soil, provide food and a home for wildlife and a place to ride or roam around and enjoy the scenery.

With each person using an average of 450 pounds of paper each year along with the more than 5,000 products made from wood, it becomes more clearly evident that forestry is a big and complex field of activity.

The sole interest of the Forestry Commission is to have an outstanding forestry program and asks the cooperation of all Mississippians in advancing forestry in the State.

The Commission is composed of six appointed and three ex-officio members. The appointed members are James R. Clark, Vice-Chairman; Crosby; R. Galloway Corely, Lucedale; Henry T. Crosby, Greenville; T. R. King, Forest; W. D. Myers, Philadelphia; and E. Y. Pickle, Ackerman. The ex-officio members are Governor Ross R. Barnett, Chairman; Si Corley, Commissioner of Agriculture and Robert E. Graham, Land Commissioner.

Avril Jenkins and family for a week.

Birthday greetings are extended to Gayle Deville Webb who celebrated Saturday June 17th.

Betty White and Jane Ollere enjoy the Jim Murray Show on T.V. at 1 p.m. each day, making the cross word puzzles, why don't you try it.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

O. O. SWORDS County Agent

Agriculture is the most important segment of the Mississippi economy measured in terms of income, employment, resource use, demands for goods and services.

The influence of Mississippi agriculture is felt in every segment of the economy. It is felt far beyond the farm boundary line. The total agri-business sector of the Mississippi economy includes the marketing agencies, the processors, transporters and distributors of farm products, and the farm suppliers as well as the producers on the farm.

Agri-business in Mississippi is BIG BUSINESS.

In 1960 it provided cash income of almost $640 million — third only to 1959 and the record year of 1953.

Cotton sales alone amounted to almost $290 million in 1959. In addition to the influence on cotton producer, this income also affects many other important segments of the industry, including ginners, merchants, warehousemen, crushers, spinners, farm suppliers, equipment dealers, labor, and lending agencies.

Livestock and livestock sales were estimated to almost $250 million in 1960. This represented the third highest sales of livestock products and second only to 1958 and 1959. It represents $100 million more than the 10 years preceding it. Income affects thousands of livestock market operators, packers, cattle buyers, suppliers, equipment dealers, transportation firms, feed stores and many other segments of the economy.

Sales of forest products in 1959 were estimated at $540 million. This income not only forest products, but also mill and other wood products, furniture and wood products, and many other segments of the economy.

Approximately $5 million spent for hired labor in 1959.

Total farm population in 1959 was estimated at 1,000,000 people.

Of the 30 million acres of land in Mississippi, 19 million are farm land. The farms 62 percent of all the area of the state.

Total physical assets of Mississippi farmers, as of 1960, were estimated at $2.5 billion.

Farm loans outstanding all public agencies in 1960, totaled almost $100 million. This does not take into account the vast amount of money used by farmers.

In 1959 almost $100 million dollars were paid to Mississippi farmers for expenses. This represents a decrease of $110 million.

430% INCREASE

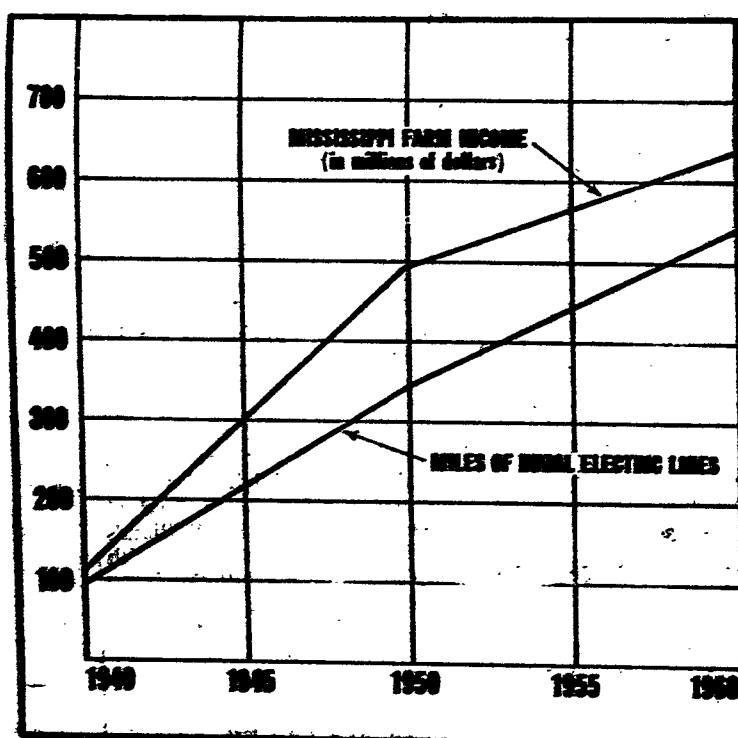

in farm income sparked by rural electrification

Vastly increased income for the farm and rural areas of Mississippi has come as a direct result of rural electrification. Since 1940, farm income has increased 430%.

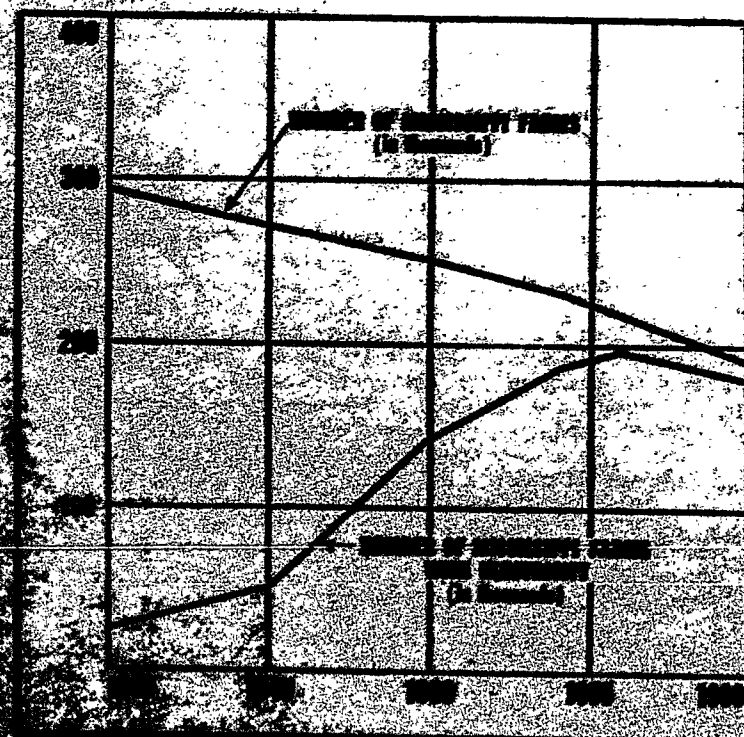

That increase in income has come in almost exact proportion with the increase in the number of miles of rural electric lines in the state. (See chart at right.)

In counties in which more than 50% of the total labor force is engaged in farming, income has increased even more: 481% since 1940.

Mississippi's Electric Power Associations have lightened the load and brightened the way for rural life. Rural electrification can readily be cited as "the most important single economic development in the history of the state."

Many of Mississippi's farm and rural industrial operations could not exist today without the low-cost power supplied by the state's Electric Power Associations.

To further emphasize the role of rural electrification, supplied by these Associations, is the fact that while farm income was rapidly increasing, the total number of farms was decreasing. (See chart at left.)

Mississippi's non-profit Electric Power Associations are locally owned. They are controlled by the people they serve. They were formed with borrowed money — money which is being repaid with interest.

Today these Electric Power Associations serve almost a million Mississippians.

Electric power supplied through these associations has been largely responsible for the state's increased income. Every business, every individual in the state has profited from the formation of these Electric Power Associations.

Good fishing has continued the week. Don't know as yet whether the rains of the weekend Monday will affect the waters.

Speckles and fresh water fish have been caught aplenty. Red fish were reported being caught in several places.

Robert Genin, Jr., Don Corr and Don Blaize reported catching a red fish weighing 311 pounds Tuesday in the Heron Bay vicinity. It was an exceptional catch and the boys had a time landing them.

WATERS CLOSED TO SHRIMPERS

The following news regarding shrimping appeared in the Times-Picayune Sunday, 18th:

The Mississippi Marine Conservation Commission Saturday closed all waters in its jurisdiction south of the intercoastal waterway to shrimping.

Chairman William G. Simpson of Gulfport said the order was issued to protect large quantities of small shrimp detected in the waters.

Simpson said the gravity of the situation was stressed by the commission biologist and chief inspector. Simpson said indiscriminate catching of the new crop of small shrimp would result "in severe damage to the industry this season."

Simpson said his immediate feeling is that the order will not remain in effect more than three weeks.

Shrimp are beginning to appear in the Bay waters and many were caught last week by soft crabbers.

Speaking of soft crabs "Gilly"

Gilmore, John Genin and John Scaife caught 4 1/2 dozen last Friday night.

Congratulations are sent to Ralph Dupas on his recent victory over Guy Sumlin last Monday night from his Bay St. Louis fans. Frank Trapani, of course is among the group, but couldn't attend the fight due to taking care of his soft ball team which is now leading the league.

The senior and junior bowling teams were hard at it Monday afternoon. Ted Heath and John Scaife are doing their share of winning for their team.

Frogging time is here and a number of frogs were caught last week. Reports come in that frogs are plentiful. For those who say they would not eat frog legs, they are missing a real treat.

According to information the bull frog and the southern frog are the most popular. These web-footed fellows, their size and chicken like daintiness of its hind legs make them the favorite table delicacy, sometimes bringing fabulous prices. They are caught at night with a bright head light and frog barbed hand grabbers and by gigging along the banks of lakes and streams.

Gigging is prohibited in Louisiana. For the first time I have

Auto Seat Belts Could Mean Difference Between Life and Death

JACKSON, Miss. — "Belted for life," that's what President Otto R. Smith of the Mississippi Safety Council says about the use of seat belts in motor vehicles.

"A seat belt may well be the difference between life and death," he said. "It's like insurance—you are protected just in case."

The Safety Council recommends that motorists install the inexpensive seat belts now.

"Don't wait — death doesn't," the council warns.

Studies by several universities prove that seat belts save lives. Indicative is a survey which disclosed that of the 442 people killed in traffic accidents throughout the nation last July 4th, "not one wore a seat belt."

"Don't take a chance," President Smith emphasized. "If you do not have seat belts in your car, have them installed now."

The council president said the number of traffic deaths in this state would be reduced by at least 35 per cent "if all Mississippians would wear a seat belt whenever they are in an automobile."

He said they should be used at all times and not only on long or out-of-town trips, pointing out that many people are killed in wrecks where speed is not involved.

"Although seat belts may not always prevent injuries, they will certainly minimize them to the extent of possibly saving lives of those who use them," Mr. Smith added. "With them naturally goes the necessity of safe driving and observance of the rules of the road."

"A car traveling 20 miles an hour can kill just as quickly as one going 80," he said. "The belts should be fastened before the car is started—no matter how short the drive."

With the summer vacation period at hand, the safety council urges motorists whose cars are not equipped with seat belts to "install them now and wear them every time you start the engine of your car."

"Make seat belts for the entire family a 'must' if the trip is only around the corner or around the countryside vacationing," Mr. Smith said. "Don't take a chance with the lives of the members of your family — or your own."

Benjamin Franklin's "Poor Richard's Almanac" said "A penny saved is a penny got." U. S. Savings Bonds earn more for you or get you more than ever before — 3 1/2 percent when held to maturity.

Wettable Powder Spraying Studied At Delta Station

STATE COLLEGE, Miss. — Research made from wettable powders are more difficult to apply than emulsions or true solutions. These powders are finely ground solids which settle if they are not kept in motion. This settling causes clogged sprayers and nozzles and excessive pump wear.

Since many agricultural chemicals are sold as wettable powders, research at the Delta Branch Experiment Station has been directed toward improved spraying methods.

O. B. Wooten and J. T. Holstun, Jr., USDA agricultural engineer and agronomist, respectively, recently submitted a progress report on this work.

They found that a pressure device with larger orifices (1/16 to 1/8 inch) gave adequate agitation. This device was suspended on a rigid pipe in the center of the drum with the orifice approximately 1 inch from the bottom of the tank. For unit of volume, this gave the best agitation in the test.

"As a safety precaution," the researchers said, "a wettable powder should be suspended (no solid material on the bottom) and thoroughly mixed manually with a metal paddle or other similar device prior to spraying any of the mixture. This should be done immediately before starting the pump and agitation system and repeated in case of stoppage."

"I WONDER WHY OUR ELECTRIC BILL'S GONE UP?"

Beg pardon, madam, but aren't you enjoying the big reason why? Over there in the window. Isn't that air conditioner new this summer?

Naturally, every time you get some new electric servant you use more electricity. Naturally, your bill's going to be a little higher. But remember these important facts:

First, you do use more electricity for the simple reason that it's about the most efficient and dependable servant you can get! Second, the more electricity you use, the less you pay for it per average kilowatt-hour.

Can you think of a bigger bargain?

SWING LOW

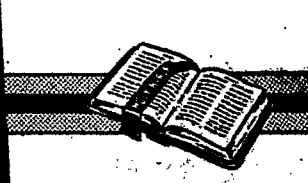

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Leviticus	25	6-12
Monday	1 Kings	19	6-15
Tuesday	Psalm	37	23-30
Wednesday	Psalm	37	23-30
Thursday	1 Peter	1	2-9
Friday	1 Peter	1	10-12
Saturday	Isaiah	6	10-13

This is life! On top of the world . . . then lost in the depths.

For a child it can be exciting sport. For a grownup it is bitter reality.

No other resource in life is better geared to this frightening swing than religion. For centuries it has provided purpose for our summits, and courage for our valleys.

Don't let some imagined sense of the inevitable chain you to the pendulum of fate. The Church, its message rooted in the life of Jesus Christ, offers all men a Faith for climax . . . and for crisis.

Attend church next Sunday. Let the love of God invade your defeats . . . add opportunity to your victories.

Housekeeping tasks tire you. A good posture while walking, standing and sitting relaxes your muscles and eases tension.

Be sure you use a cleaning method suited to the particular lamp shade.

It is safe to wash shades made of colored rayon or silk that are sewed (but not glued) to non-rust frames. To do this:

Prepare a solution of lukewarm mild detergent in a utensil large enough to hold the shade - or in a laundry tub. Dip the shade up and down in the solution until it is clean. Rinse in clear water by dipping up and down.

Dry away from direct sunlight, but as rapidly as possible. Handpainted fabric shades and those of linen or chintz generally should be dry cleaned rather than washed.

Any shade that is glued must be cleaned with great care. Generally, it's safest to wipe it with a very soft damp cloth. Plastic shades also may be cleaned by plastic materials to help you keep food cool when you carry it in a car that is warm.

CLEANING LAMP SHADES

Lampshades may need extra cleaning in summer when open windows let in dust and insects. The right kind of cleaning may make the shades last longer. It also means the lamp gives better light, and it aids the appearance of the shades.

Forestry Bank Set
To Help Landowners

Mississippi's Forestry Bank - a new state agency created by the 1960 Legislature - was established to help landowners with funds for replanting and timberland improvement. This is the first column in a five-part series of questions and answers about the Forestry Bank.

THE FORESTRY BANK

Q What is the Forestry Bank?

A The Forestry Bank was created by the 1960 Legislature to give long-term financial assistance to landowners who desire to grow trees or improve existing timberland.

Q Where is the Forestry Bank office located?

A The Forestry Bank is located in Room 209 of the Southern Farm Bureau Life Insurance Company Building, corner of Amite and President streets in Jackson.

Q Who is the Executive Director?

A The executive director is Russell E. Hobgood, who was appointed by the Trustees to actively manage the Forestry Bank program.

Q Who are the Trustees?

A Governor Ross Barnett is chairman of the Board of Trustees; Jim Files of Jackson is vice chairman. Other trustees include Mims Berry, New Hebron; Bobby Burruss, Booneville; Tom Campbell, Yazoo City; James R. Clark, Crosby; Lamont Griffith, Prentiss; Ross Ingram, Water Valley; Cliff Martin, State Forester; and C. C. Williams, Quitman.

Q Why was the Forestry Bank established?

A There are approximately 6-million acres of idle land in Mississippi, which could be put to use in growing trees. At present, Mississippi people receive approximately $350-million each year in personal income from the sale of timber and timber products. Yet, we have the potential for making our timber industry produce $1-billion a year in personal income - three times what it is today. It is hoped that the Forestry Bank will stimulate this phase of Mississippi's economic development by providing long-term financing opportunities to landowners.

Q Who will benefit from the Forestry Bank program?

A Everyone in Mississippi will benefit. The landowner will receive direct income from timber sales - plus having the opportunity to learn, from firsthand experience, how to apply good forestry practices to his land while it is managed by the Forestry Commission. More timber resources will provide raw material for industry.

This means new and expanded industrial payrolls, greater employment opportunities, improved income opportunities for retail, wholesale, and service industries. There will be more opportunities for higher education which will benefit Mississippi's youth - for a 20-acre tract of pine seedlings, in 18-20 years, will provide enough annual income to send one child through four years of college study. More timberland will improve soil and water conservation, plus providing greater recreation opportunities and improved wildlife habitat. Truly, everyone in Mississippi will benefit from an expanded forest development program.

Q Can anyone use the Forestry Bank?

A Only those persons who are bona fide landowners may use the services of the Forestry Bank. Any landowner having land and timber, or land capable of producing timber, is encouraged to apply.

Q Is there much red tape involved?

A No. The Forestry Bank will handle most of the details, and landowners will find it simple and easy to use this program.

Q Where can a person get an application blank?

A Application blanks can be obtained from the Forestry Bank, from area and district foresters, or from offices of county agricultural agencies cooperating in the program.

Q Who does a landowner see first after he gets an application blank?

A After he gets his application blank, he should fill out the necessary information and return it to the Forestry Bank. The Forestry Bank will send the application to a management forester, and the management forester will then get in touch with the landowner to complete the next step on the application.

Q When is the best time to apply?

A Applications are being received on a continuous basis and it is suggested that landowners send in their applications as soon as possible.

Q Who approves an application?

A All applications are approved by Trustees of the Forestry Bank.

wiping with a damp cloth.

Generally it's best to clean parchment or paper shades with a commercial wall-paper cleaner. Frequent dusting helps keep shades clean. Remove the dust with the dusting attachment of your vacuum cleaner or with a soft brush.

Mrs. Homemaker, you are probably seeing a new kind of skillet advertised. It's one that is treated with a material that prevents sticking and eliminates the need for fat in cooking chops, eggs, pancakes and other foods.

If you buy and use one, you are going to have to follow instructions carefully to make the coating on the skillet surface do the work it's supposed to.

To use and care for the skillet, you must:

- Use moderate heat
- Don't overheat
- Use wooden or rubber spoons or spatulas only
- Do not use metal spoons
- Do not cut in the pan
- Do not use scouring powder or steel wool

The material that coat the surface of the skillet has been approved by the U. S. Food and Drug Administration as acceptable for use.

JUNE PLENTIFUL FOODS

Topping the list are broilers and dairy products. Along with them are late spring crop potatoes plus frozen potatoes. This is the month to look for "specials" in cottage cheese, sour cream, ice cream and sherberts and many other dairy products.

ROACH CONTROL

Roach poisons that are giving good results are Diazinon and Ronnel. You may find them as aerosol sprays, liquids to apply with a paint brush and spray. Check the ingredients on the container, as these poisons may be sold under different trade names.

To get results, you have to do a thorough job. A squirt and a dab here and there won't control the pesky roaches. For outstanding results, follow these steps:

1. Remove all foods, dishes, pots, pans and other stuff from your kitchen cabinets.
2. Clean shelves in cabinets, bedroom closets and bathroom.
3. Wash all these places with soap and water.
4. Brush or spray poison inside cabinets on all woodwork.

Be sure to get poison into cracks, corners, crevices, the bottom side of drawers, under the sink, top and bottom of baseboards and around the doors.

FOOD FORECASTS. Another good peach crop is in prospect for the South. Mississippi's crop is estimated 30,000 bushels more than in 1960.

Clean Hog Pens Producing Profits

There's no longer truth to the old expression "as fat as a hog" or the belief that hogs and mud go together. Quite the opposite is seen in modern hog farms such as the several in the southeastern Carroll County. On these farms, hogs of the streamlined neat type spend much of their lives in concrete-floored, open-sided barns. As they eat from automatic feeders, they make fast and economical gains and little feed is lost. Water is run across these concrete floors often enough to keep them clean; and in hot weather, this water helps to cool the hogs.

The fibers from just one tree may be sufficient to produce pages for 460 first-graders or a family's ten-month supply of 42-page newspaper.

4TH OF JULY
GOLF TOURNAMENT
AT MISS. SOUTHERN

HATTIESBURG, Miss. - The third annual 4th of July Four Ball Holiday Golf Tournament, sponsored by the MSC Golf Association, will be held at Mississippi Southern College's 18-hole course on Saturday, Sunday and Tuesday, July 1, 2 and 4.

The field will be limited to 144 golfers (72 two-man teams) this year, with qualifying schedule through Sunday, June 25. Teams seeking the medalist award must qualify on June 25th.

Hattiesburg's 4th of July Tournament has developed into a real holiday affair, with entertainment available to all members of each golfer's family.

Golfers and all members of their families can swim free all three days at the Southernaire Motel pool; a bridge tournament for the ladies will be held at 1 p.m. on the Fourth; and a bowling tournament for children of the golfers entered is slated for the morning of the Fourth at Bowl-A-Way Lanes. Also, the annual watermelon feast will be held on the afternoon of the Fourth.

Another feature of the Tournament is the fact that all entries will play all three days of competition. For those teams which lose the first two days, a Lane Duck Flight will be held with handicap medal play determining the winner.

Prizes will be awarded to winners and runnersup in each flight, to consolation flight winners, and to the Lane Duck Flight winner. Prizes will be awarded at the close of play Tuesday, the Fourth, during the watermelon cutting.

The entry fee of $7.50 entitles each golfer to a practice and qualifying round plus three rounds of competition. Father and son teams may enter, but otherwise no entries of high school age or younger may enter, unless the youngsters qualify for the championship flight.

A new championship team is assured for this year's Tournament. The team of Doc Powell and Joe Phelps, both of Hattiesburg, took the 1960 title, but Powell will not enter this year's competition. Phelps will try to make it two straight, with Hattiesburg's Hap Wilson as his partner this time.

ARTS AND CRAFTS
FAIR AT PASS
CHRISTIAN, JULY 1

The Martha Guild of Trinity Episcopal Church is sponsoring its second Coast Arts and Crafts Fair Saturday, July 1. Artists are urged to enter their work before 10 a.m. so they will be properly displayed in the Church yard at Pass Christian. Gates open at 12 noon. Telephone Mrs. Ben McMath, GL-2-4121 for details. Craftsmen may call Mrs. Allen Walker, GL-2-2449.

Mrs. Ida Kohlmeier, noted authority and head of the Newcomb Art Department, will judge the show - awarding ribbons in professional, amateur, and children categories.

A real fair day with barbecue and balloons, and puppets, and cartoons - craftsmen at work before your eyes. Come see how it's done - everything from hat making to ship modeling - something for everyone - that's you!

The proceeds realized from the fair go towards the grant from the Martha Guild to the Christ Episcopal Day School Building Fund.

June Is Dairy Month

June is being observed as Dairy Month throughout Mississippi and the nation. June is also usually the month of heaviest milk production. Climate, high quality grazing and the biology of the cow combine to make this the ideal production period of the year. Dairying is rapidly becoming one of the major bulwarks of Mississippi's economy.

Weeds Cuts
Pastures By Half

Pastures may need clipping or chemical treatment to get rid of weeds. Some farmers have already clipped pastures once. If pastures are covered with weeds and dry, hot weather comes, grass seems to back up and let the weeds take over. Weeds cost a lot in grass during the summer; and then when the weeds are clipped off, grass seems to come back and do better.

Thrifty Americans go into the 21st year of the U. S. Savings Bond program with a record high of $43.6 billion in E and H bonds salted away. The first E bond was issued May 1, 1941.

CAR INSPECTION
DEADLINE - JUNE 30

June 30 is an especially important date to remember. It is the deadline for having your car inspected under the new Motor Vehicle Inspection Law. At the present there are about 300,000 Mississippians that still have not had their cars checked. With less than two weeks left in which to get the vehicles inspected there will be a big rush right up until the last day.

R. L. Morgan, Director of Motor Vehicle Inspection, stated that the inspection program has been progressing very well but that many people will be without inspection stickers if they don't submit their cars pretty soon.

Beginning the first day of July officers will begin enforcing the inspection law. Any vehicle using the roads of the state that does not have a current valid inspection sticker will be liable for a fine of up to $50.00 or up to six months in jail or both.

The only vehicles not required to have stickers are vehicles that do not normally use the highways and some farm vehicles.

Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong, in commenting on the law said, "The law is not designed to put any car off the roads but to insure that all vehicles using our Mississippi highways are in safe operating condition. This will insure a reduction in accidents and a saving of lives from automobile accidents." The Commissioner added, "There will be no extension of the inspection period. There has been ample notification to the public and plenty of time for everyone to have their vehicles inspected."

Fossil Deposits

The fossil deposits in Mississippi are comparable with any other state in the nation. Because Mississippi was one of the states covered by water millions of years ago, fossil deposits are numerous and can be found in many parts of the state. The best places to find fossils are barren hillsides, gullies and ditches; places where digging is being done by heavy equipment are excellent. Although fossils can be found at any time, it is best soon after a rain when the fossils can be spotted easily.

CATTLE THEFT
DOESN'T PAY OFF

Cattle thieves are still having a hard time making their line of work pay off for them. Last week a couple more realized the error of their ways thanks to the actions of the Livestock Theft Bureau. Here is the story . . .

On May 22 Warren Moore of Prentiss had two cows stolen, a red Guernsey and a yellow Jersey. He reported it to Sheriff D. E. Grubbs of Jefferson Davis county. Sheriff Grubbs contacted the Cattle Theft office about 9:00 a.m. on June 6. Director Ed Ainsworth and Investigator Jack Smith began working on the case immediately.

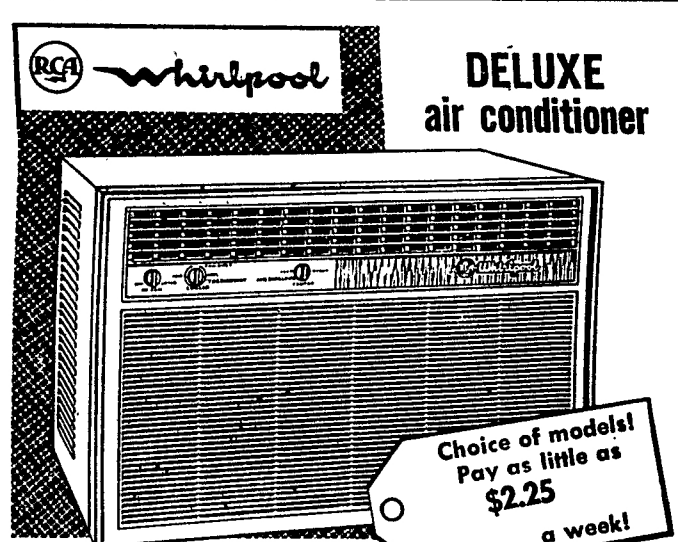

Investigation revealed that the cows had been sold to a cow buyer by Negroes James Terrell Fontenberry, 23, and Glen Otis, 21, for $121.00. The buyer had resold one of the cows which was recovered immediately. The other cow was sold through the sale barn at Monticello.

Relatives of the two Negroes were contacted and advised the officers that both of them had left home. They said they were heading for the Gulf Coast to look for work.

Director Ainsworth contacted Chief Deputy H. J. Ladner of Harrison County about 5:00 p.m. and with his assistance had the two subjects in the Harrison county jail by midnight the same day. The next day they were returned to Jefferson Davis County to await action of the Grand Jury. Both subjects admitted the theft and gave complete statements to the investigators.

Oktibbeha County Has Only Lode Of Pyrite

The mineral, known as Iron Pyrite or "fool's gold," is found over a wide area in Oktibbeha County but is found more in abundance in the creek beds of the Oktobee community. Only Oktibbeha County has this type of pyrite. The children of Oktibbeha County are fortunate as they don't have to depend on their imagination to provide buried treasure. They can find gold anytime they want to go prospecting, "fool's gold," that is. Geology students from a nearby college make special field trips to collect one of the specimens.

A garland of lace trimmed with pearls encircled the front of the bouffant skirt. Soft criss-cross folds at the midriff terminated at the back in a cascading pouf bustle which flowed into the soft folds of the chapel train.

A crown of Alencon lace embellished with seed pearls held her cathedral length veil of French silk illusion.

She carried a bouquet of double wedding rings held together by a bluish pink orchid which centered a cascade of pink phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis.

Mrs. Charles Biasi, of Biloxi, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and Miss Dolores Gahn of New Orleans was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Misses Patricia Lampard and Thelma Sims, New Orleans; Mrs. Monroe Kimball, Pass Christian; and Mrs. George Spaulding, Jr. Marshall, Texas. Agnes Bourn and Melanie Saucier served as junior bridesmaids, and Dawn Marie Trochessett was flower girl.

They wore matching picture hats with a white organza rose at the back and carried bouquets of white mums.

The flower girl wore a floor length gown of aqua organza and carried a white basket of pink blossoms.

Mr. George Spaulding, Jr., of Marshall, Texas was Mr. Beyer's best man. Messrs. Whitney Carvin, Pass Christian; Frostcher Steckler, Biloxi; Hugh Stanley, Baton Rouge; Peter Aufdemorte, Jr., and Capt. Charles Biasi, Biloxi, were groomsmen. Frank Wheat, Jr. was ring bearer.
